WALT DISNEY'S
Disneyland
A pictorial souvenir and guide

"To all who come to this happy place . . . WELCOME . . .
Disneyland is your land. Here age relives fond memories of the past . . .
and here youth may savor the challenge and promise of the future.
Disneyland is dedicated to the ideals, the dreams, and the hard facts
that have created America . . . with the hope that it will be a source of joy and inspiration to all the world."
Dedication Plaque—July 17, 1955

"To all who come to this happy place . . . WELCOME . . .
Disneyland is your land. Here age relives fond memories of the past . . .
and here youth may savor the challenge and promise of the future.
Disneyland is dedicated to the ideals, the dreams, and the hard facts
that have created America . . . with the hope that it will be a source of joy and inspiration to all the world."
Dedication Plaque—July 17, 1955

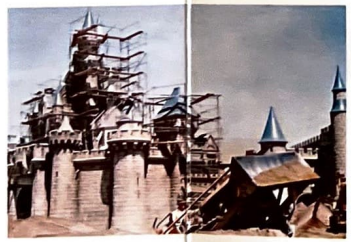
The year was 1954, the place a country suburb of Los Angeles called Anaheim. The land, as Walt Disney later recalled, was "all flat — no rivers, no mountains, no castle or rocket ships . . . just orange groves, and a few acres of walnut trees."

Many miles away, and many years before, a persistent idea had begun in the mind of Walter Elias Disney. "Disneyland really began," Walt said, "when my two daughters were very young. Saturday was always Daddy's Day, and I would take them to the merry-go-round and sit on a bench eating peanuts, while they rode. And sitting there, alone, I felt there should be something built, some kind of family park where parents and children could have fun, together."

Over a period of 20 years, the dream that was to become Disneyland grew and grew. Because it had no precedent, there were no simple solutions in its design and construction. Everything was one-of-a-kind . . . from a medieval castle whose drawbridge (though functional) has been raised but once . . . to the 14-story tall Matterhorn Mountain, built of concrete and 500 tons of steel.

On July 17, 1955, a year and a day after construction began, Walt Disney's persistent idea — his "new concept in family entertainment" — became a prodigious reality. An earthen berm, 20-feet high, was built around the 230 acre Magic Kingdom.

"I don't want the public to see the real world they live in while they're in the park," Walt Disney said.
"I want them to feel they are in another world."



The year was 1954, the place a country suburb of Los Angeles called Anaheim. The land, as Walt Disney later recalled, was "all flat — no rivers, no mountains, no castle or rocket ships . . . just orange groves, and a few acres of walnut trees."

Many miles away, and many years before, a persistent idea had begun in the mind of Walter Elias Disney. "Disneyland really began," Walt said, "when my two daughters were very young. Saturday was always Daddy's Day, and I would take them to the merry-go-round and sit on a bench eating peanuts, while they rode. And sitting there, alone, I felt there should be something built, some kind of family park where parents and children could have fun, together."

Over a period of 20 years, the dream that was to become Disneyland grew and grew. Because it had no precedent, there were no simple solutions in its design and construction. Everything was one-of-a-kind . . . from a medieval castle whose drawbridge (though functional) has been raised but once . . . to the 14-story tall Matterhorn Mountain, built of concrete and 500 tons of steel.

On July 17, 1955, a year and a day after construction began, Walt Disney's persistent idea — his "new concept in family entertainment" — became a prodigious reality. An earthen berm, 20-feet high, was built around the 230 acre Magic Kingdom.

"I don't want the public to see the real world they live in while they're in the park," Walt Disney said.

"I want them to feel they are in another world."

© MCMLXVIII Walt Disney Productions. All rights reserved. First Edition. Printed in U.S.A.
Audio-Animatronics® is a service mark, Registered U.S. Patent Office.
Cover photograph © 1963 National Geographic Society — photograph by Thomas Nebbia.

Disneyland is really many different worlds. Within its earthen berm, Walt Disney and his creative staff at WED Enterprises reshaped the flat orange groves into broad rivers, arid deserts and flourishing jungles. From 22 major attractions and a $17 million dollar investment on opening day, Disneyland has grown to encompass more than 50 major attractions, and an investment exceeding $100 million dollars today. "Disneyland," Walt Disney said, "will never be completed."

Entire areas, like New Orleans Square and the new Tomorrowland, have been created or entirely reshaped. New transportation systems, like America's first monorail and the PeopleMover, have been introduced here. And the amazing system of three-dimensional animation called Audio-Animatronics, a space-age concept developed by Disney technicians in the mid-60's, has revolutionized even the new ideas in entertainment pioneered at Disneyland in the mid-1950's.

More than 120 different nations 'round the world are represented among Disneyland's visitors, including three dozen heads of state, some shown here: President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Prime Minister Nehru of India, King Baudouin of Belgium, and the Shah and Empress of Iran. This international popularity prompted the Christian Science Monitor to write that Disneyland has become "almost an instrumentality of American foreign policy."

On the pages of this Souvenir Pictorial, Walt Disney's own words describe his philosophy for each "land" in the Magic Kingdom. These basic ideas remain as they have been since the beginning. And all who come to this happy place today will find:

"We love to entertain kings and queens, but at Disneyland every guest is a VIP."

Disneylandmarks

Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom

DISNEYLAND . . . is composed of six main areas or "lands." Each is filled with a variety of adventures, attractions, shops and restaurants designed to carry out the theme and time it represents. It is 1890 again on Main Street, U.S.A., where a visit to Disneyland begins, and 1980 in nearby Tomorrowland. It is the pioneer's hardy realm, Frontierland, and the grace and charm of a century ago just down the river in New Orleans Square. It is a jungle safari to far-off worlds in Adventureland. And it is a castle full of dreams — the classic tales of childhood "come to life" in Fantasyland. On this page are listed Disneyland's more than 50 major attractions. Many are pictured on the pages that follow in this Souvenir Pictorial.

Main Street, U.S.A.

Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad through the Grand Canyon and Primeval World • Omnibus • Horseless Carriages • Main Street Horsecars • Surrey • Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln (presented by Lincoln Savings & Loan Assn.) • Fire Engine • Cinema • Penny Arcade.

Adventureland

Jungle River Cruise • Swiss Family Treehouse • Enchanted Tiki Room (presented by United Air Lines) • Big Game Safari Shooting Gallery.

New Orleans Square

Pirates of the Caribbean • Pirates Arcade Museum.

Frontierland

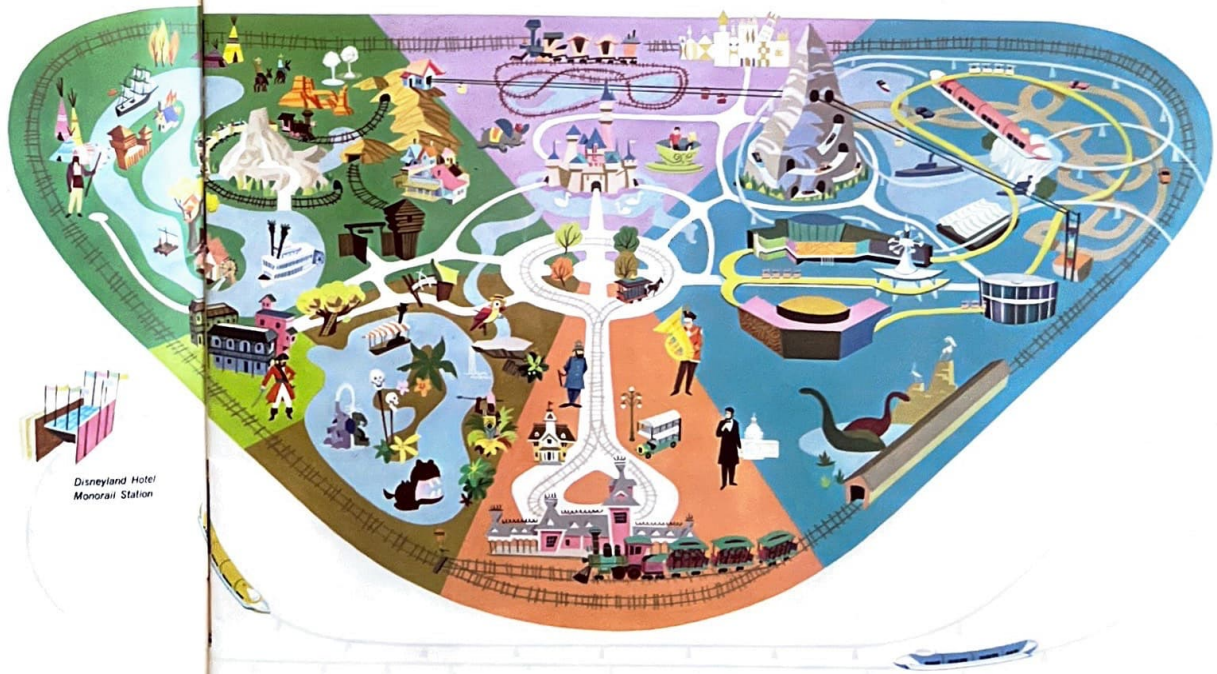
Mark Twain Steamboat • Columbia Sailing Ship • Nature's Wonderland Mine Train • Pack Mules • Tom Sawyer Island Rafts • Mike Fink Keelboats • Indian Village • Indian War Canoes • Shooting Gallery • Columbia Museum • The Golden Horseshoe Revue (presented by Pepsi-Cola) • Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad Station.

Fantasyland

Sleeping Beauty Castle • It's A Small World (presented by Bank of America) • Peter Pan Flight • King Arthur Carousel • Snow White's Adventures • Mad Tea Party • Fantasyland Theatre • Dumbo Flying Elephants • Skyway to Tomorrowland • Casey Jr. Circus Train • Storybook Land Canal Boats • Motor Boat Cruise • Alice in Wonderland • Mr. Toad's Wild Ride • Matterhorn Bobsleds • Fantasyland Autopia.

Tomorrowland

America the Beautiful (presented by the Bell System) • Carousel of Progress (presented by General Electric) • PeopleMover (presented by Goodyear) • Flight to the Moon (presented by McDonnell Douglas) • Adventure thru Inner Space (presented by Monsanto) • Tomorrowland Autopia (presented by Atlantic-Richfield) • Skyway to Fantasyland • Disneyland-Alweg Monorail System • Submarine Voyage • Rocket Jets • Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad Station.



Disneyland Hotel
Monorail Station

Disneylandmarks

Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom

DISNEYLAND . . . is composed of six main areas or "lands." Each is filled with a variety of adventures, attractions, shops and restaurants designed to carry out the theme and time it represents. It is 1890 again on Main Street, U.S.A., where a visit to Disneyland begins, and 1980 in nearby Tomorrowland. It is the pioneer's hardy realm, Frontierland, and the grace and charm of a century ago just down the river in New Orleans Square. It is a jungle safari to far-off worlds in Adventureland. And it is a castle full of dreams — the classic tales of childhood "come to life" in Fantasyland. On this page are listed Disneyland's more than 50 major attractions. Many are pictured on the pages that follow in this Souvenir Pictorial.

Main Street, U.S.A.

Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad through the Grand Canyon and Primeval World • Omnibus • Horseless Carriages • Main Street Horsecars • Surrey • Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln (presented by Lincoln Savings & Loan Assn.) • Fire Engine • Cinema • Penny Arcade.

Adventureland

Jungle River Cruise • Swiss Family Treehouse • Enchanted Tiki Room (presented by United Air Lines) • Big Game Safari Shooting Gallery.

New Orleans Square

Pirates of the Caribbean • Pirates Arcade Museum.

Frontierland

Mark Twain Steamboat • Columbia Sailing Ship • Nature's Wonderland Mine Train • Pack Mules • Tom Sawyer Island Rafts • Mike Fink Keelboats • Indian Village • Indian War Canoes • Shooting Gallery • Columbia Museum • The Golden Horseshoe Revue (presented by Pepsi-Cola) • Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad Station.

Fantasyland

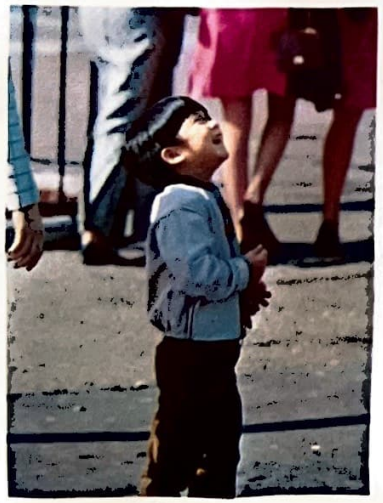
Sleeping Beauty Castle • It's A Small World (presented by Bank of America) • Peter Pan Flight • King Arthur Carousel • Snow White's Adventures • Mad Tea Party • Fantasyland Theatre • Dumbo Flying Elephants • Skyway to Tomorrowland • Casey Jr. Circus Train • Storybook Land Canal Boats • Motor Boat Cruise • Alice in Wonderland • Mr. Toad's Wild Ride • Matterhorn Bobsleds • Fantasyland Autopia.

Tomorrowland

America the Beautiful (presented by the Bell System) • Carousel of Progress (presented by General Electric) • PeopleMover (presented by Goodyear) • Flight to the Moon (presented by McDonnell Douglas) • Adventure thru Inner Space (presented by Monsanto) • Tomorrowland Autopia (presented by Atlantic-Richfield) • Skyway to Fantasyland • Disneyland-Alweg Monorail System • Submarine Voyage • Rocket Jets • Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad Station.

Disneyland Hotel Monorail Station

Main Street, U.S.A.



"Many of us fondly remember our 'small home town' and its friendly way of life at the turn of the century. To me, this era represents an important part of our nation's heritage. On Main Street we have endeavored to recapture those by-gone years.

Here is America in 1890-1910, at the crossroads of an era. Here the gas lamp is giving way to the electric lamp, and a newcomer, the sputtering horseless carriage, has challenged Old Dobbin to the streetcar right-of-way. America was in transition; the discoveries of the late 19th century were changing our way of life.

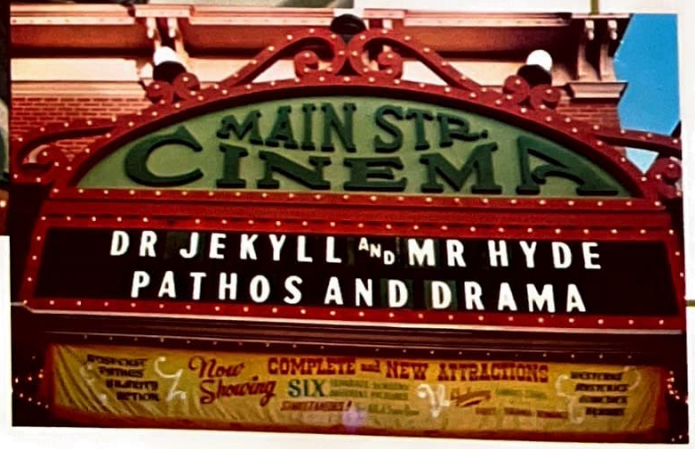
When you visit the apothecary, the ice cream parlor, the market house and cinema where silent films play, we hope you will visualize, as I often do, your own home town Main Street, or the one your parents and grandparents have told you about. Main Street is everyone's home town — the heartline of America.

In Town Square's Opera House, our theatre show, Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln, presents another part of our revered past. Here the inspiring words of Abraham Lincoln, as valid today as they were a century ago, are heard once more as our three-dimensional figure of America's sixteenth president stands and speaks.

In Town Square too, you will find the depot for the Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad. Here 1890 trains depart for a grand circle tour of the Magic Kingdom, climaxed by the breathtaking Grand Canyon and the Primeval World.

For those of us who remember the carefree times it recreates, Main Street will bring back happy memories. For younger visitors, it is an adventure in turning back the calendar to the days of grandfather's youth."

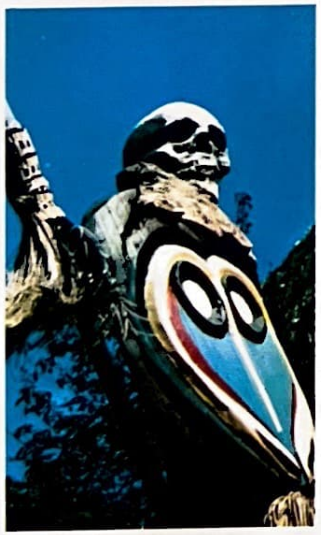
Turn of the century America is relived in many ways on Main Street . . . the ever-popular home town parade led by the marching Disneyland Band . . . flickering silent films at the Cinema . . . and elegant dining in the Victorian surroundings of the Plaza Inn. Stores and shops offer a wide range of colorful items, including rare and beautiful imports at the Candle Shop.



Trains of the Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad steam out of Main Street Station bound for the Grand Canyon and the Primeval World of the dinosaurs.

The stirring words of America's 16th president live again in "Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln" at the Opera House.

Adventureland



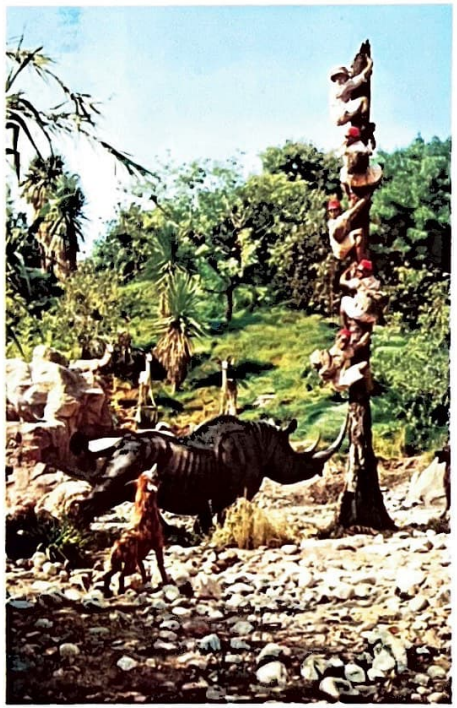
"The spirit of adventure is often linked with exotic tropic places. Many of us dream of traveling to these mysterious, far-off regions of the world.

To create a land which would make this dream reality, we pictured ourselves far from civilization, in the remote jungles of Asia and Africa. The result is Adventureland, 'the wonderland of nature's own design.'

Here, through a unique combination of living plants and lifelike animals, we have created a true-to-life safari that takes you down winding tropic rivers. Colorful plants, ferns and flowers grow to the water's edge as explorers' boats carry you into the misty rain-forest of the Amazon, the hippopotamus filled Belgian Congo, and the swirling rapids of the Nile.

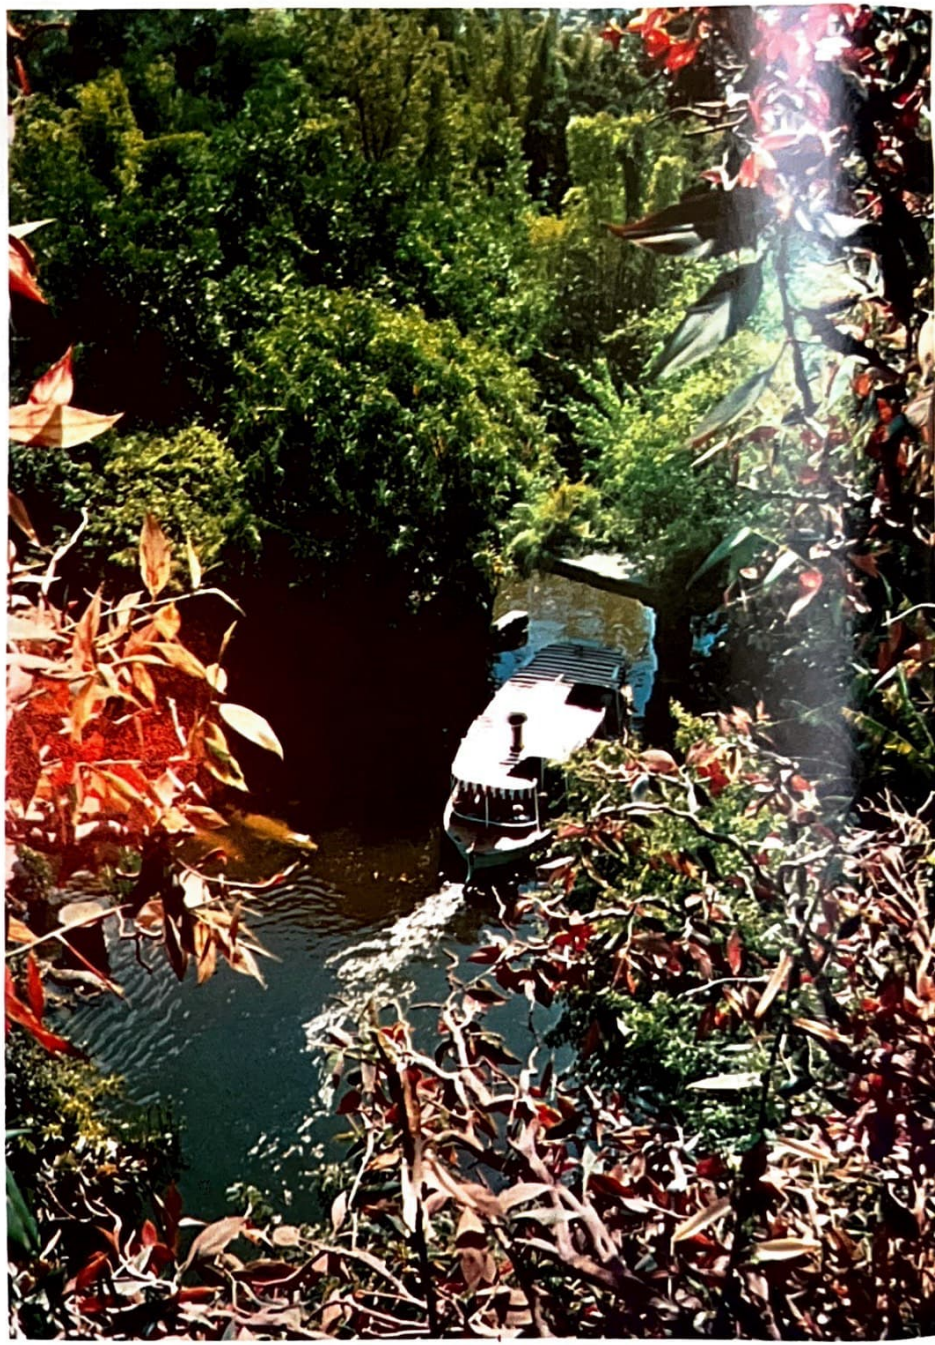
Adventure lurks around every bend in the rivers. Crocodiles guard an ancient shrine. Indian elephants splash in their sacred bathing pool. In the grasslands of the African Veldt, lions, zebras and giraffes portray the law of the jungle: survival of the fittest.

Elephants, gorillas, hippos, head-hunters — even the humorous trapped safari — you'll meet them all in tropic Adventureland."



On Adventureland's Jungle Cruise, explorers travel down mysterious rivers to see Indian elephants at play in their sacred bathing pool, ponderous hippos deep in the Belgian Congo, and the hunters and hunted of the great African Veldt — including the Trapped Safari.

Exotic tropical regions of the world open to everyone entering Adventureland. Climbing the Swiss Family Treehouse, adventurers gain a spectacular panorama of the sprawling jungle region. Far below, an explorer's launch winds down a tropical river, through a lush rain-forest and past a thundering waterfall.



Tropical birds, Tikis and flowers spring to life in the Enchanted Tiki Room, a musical fantasy recalling legends of the South Seas.

The romance of the islands is found at the Tahitian Terrace, an open-air Polynesian restaurant. Nearby, the Bazaar offers imported goods from around the world.

New Orleans Square

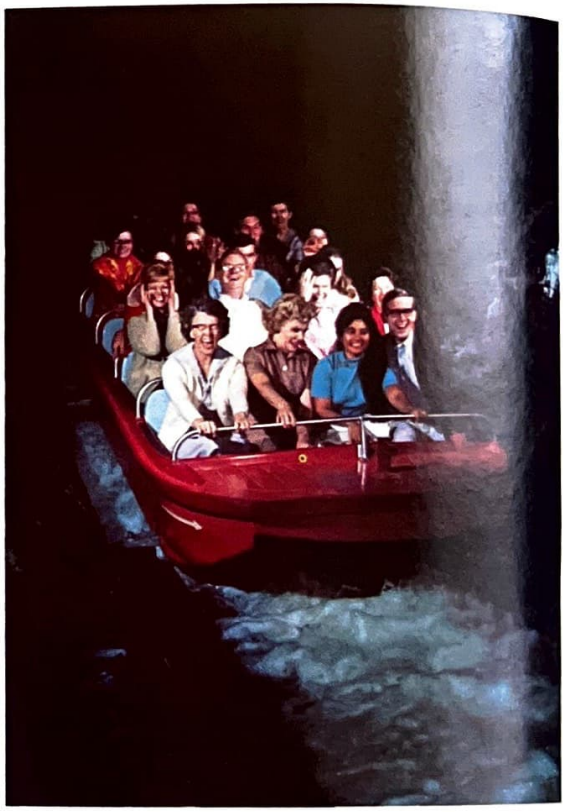
"Disneyland has always had a big river and a Mississippi stern-wheeler. It seemed appropriate to create a new attraction at the bend of the river. And so, Disneyland's New Orleans Square came into being — a New Orleans of a century ago when she was the 'Gay Paree' of the American frontier.

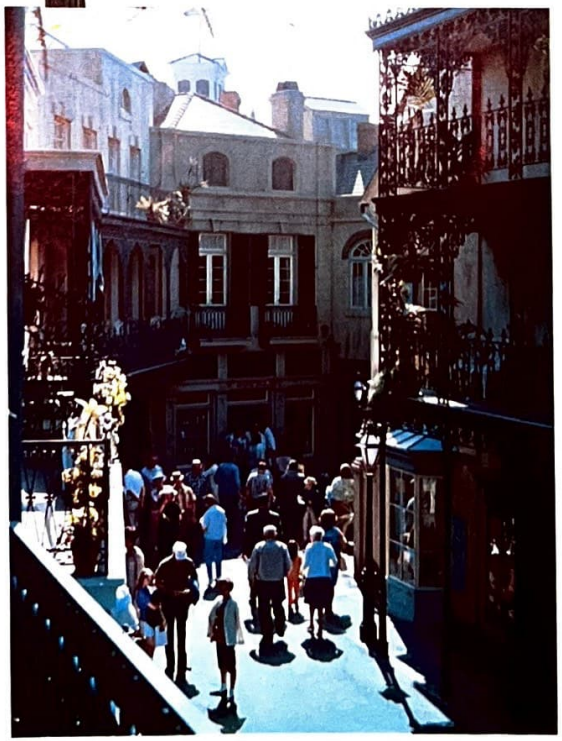
Flower marts, a tradition of old New Orleans, add color to the streets and courtyards. The quaint shops offer treasures from all over the world. Diners in French and Creole cafes are entertained in true Dixie-like fashion.

The original architecture and atmosphere of old New Orleans of the 1850's has been retained. The narrow winding streets, intimate courtyards and iron lace balconies are authentic in every detail."

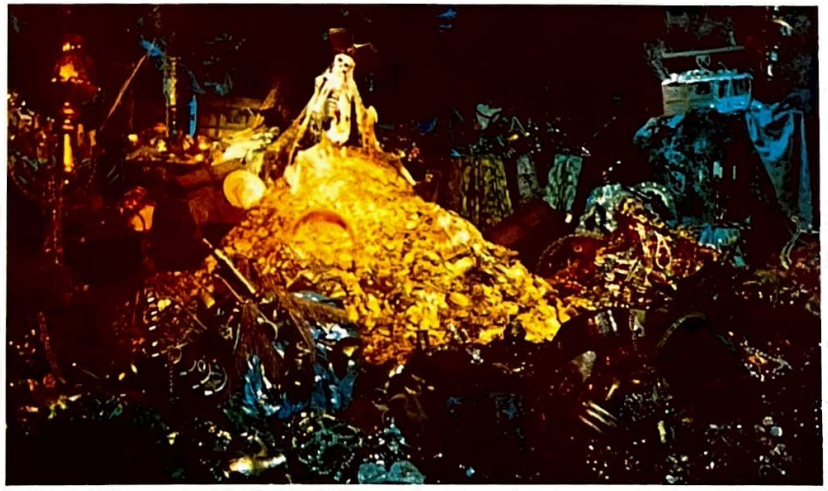
Ladies blend their own exclusive perfumes at Mlle. Antoinette's Parfumerie. Imported antiques at the One-of-a-Kind Shop and rare culinary items at Le Gourmet highlight old world shopping in New Orleans Square.

Jazz combos and gay Mardi Gras parades recreate the sounds of old New Orleans, birthplace of Dixieland. The Blue Bayou Restaurant offers dining by moonlight, in the daytime or evening, on the banks of a Louisiana bayou.

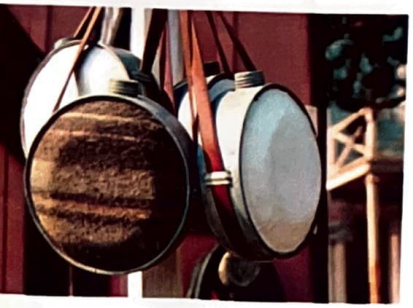




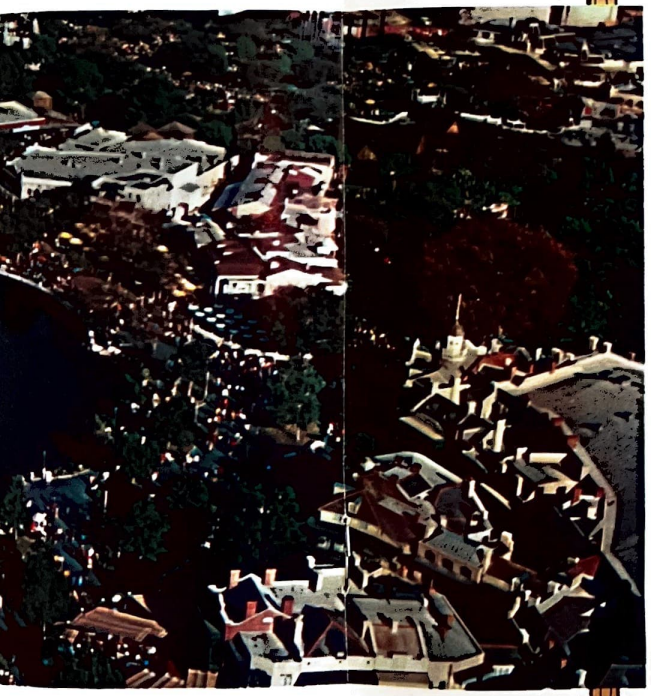
New Orleans Square is the gateway to Disneyland's swashbuckling new adventure, THE PIRATES OF THE CARIBBEAN. Aboard flat-bottom bateaux, guests cruise through haunted undersea grottos and into a Caribbean seaport under attack by a pirate galleon. Bold buccaneers capture the defenders, auction their fair maidens, loot the village and then, in one of the most spectacular climaxes to any Disneyland adventure, they turn the whole town into a raging inferno.



FRONTIERLAND



LAND



"All of us have cause to be proud of our country's history, shaped by the pioneering spirit of our forefathers. It is to those hardy pioneers, men of vision, faith and courage, that we have dedicated Frontierland. Here you can return to frontier America, from the Revolutionary War era to the final taming of the great southwest.

In Frontierland you can ride a mule, or help Indians paddle a canoe on the Rivers of America. The river winds through Mark Twain country, and you can see it all from the decks of a Mississippi stern-wheeler, the sailing ship Columbia, or keelboats of Davy Crockett's day.

Every youngster will enjoy the adventure of Tom Sawyer Island, reached by log rafts. Back on the mainland, the wild west lives again in the Golden Horseshoe 'saloon,' where the rollicking floor show is as popular today as it was more than 15,000 performances ago.

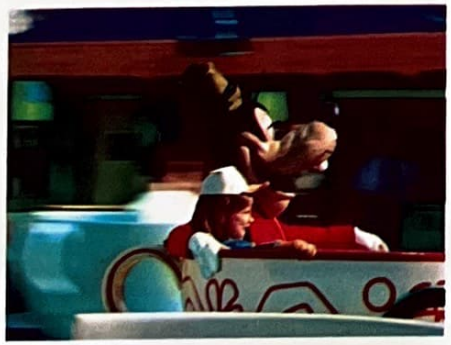
Aboard a mine train, you can tour the great North American wilderness in Nature's Wonderland, a seven-acre wildfire preserve filled with more than 200 lifelike animals, birds and reptiles.

These adventures are designed to give you the feeling of having lived, even for a short while, during our country's pioneer days."

Beyond the gates to Frontierland, travel by water on the Rivers of America remains much as it was a century ago. You can paddle Indian war canoes, cruise aboard the Mark Twain stern-wheeler, or sail by log raft to Tom Sawyer Island to explore old Fort Wilderness, climb Castle Rock and cross a floating barrel bridge.

Pack mules and mining trains leave the town of Rainbow Ridge and head into the frontier wilderness of Nature's Wonderland. Back in civilization, you can relive the rip-roaring days of the wild west at the Golden Horseshoe Show.

Fantasyland



"When we were planning Fantasyland, we recalled the lyrics of the song, When You Wish Upon A Star. The words of that melody, from our picture Pinocchio, inspired us to create a land where dreams 'come true.'

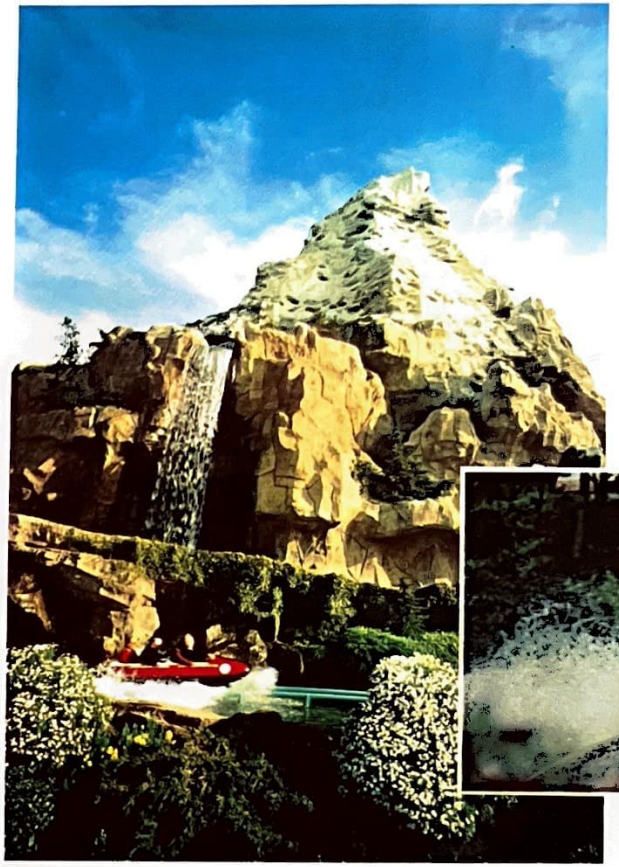
What youngster, listening to parents or grandparents read aloud, has not dreamed of flying with Peter Pan over moonlit London, or tumbling into Alice's nonsensical Wonderland? In Fantasyland, these classic stories of everyone's youth have become actual realities for youngsters — of all ages — to participate in.

Here in the 'happiest kingdom of them all,' you can journey with Snow White through the dark forest to the diamond mine of the Seven Dwarfs; flee the clutches of Mr. Smee and Captain Hook with Peter Pan; and race with Mr. Toad on his wild auto ride through the streets of Old London town.

Dumbo, the elephant with aerodynamic ears, will take you on a flight high above Fantasyland, while the haughty Caterpillar of Alice in Wonderland carries you down the Rabbit Hole into the Upside Down Room and Tulgey Wood. In colorful Dutch canal boats or the Casey Jr. Circus Train, you'll journey through Storybook Land to see the homes of the Three Little Pigs, Pinocchio's Village, and Cinderella's castle.

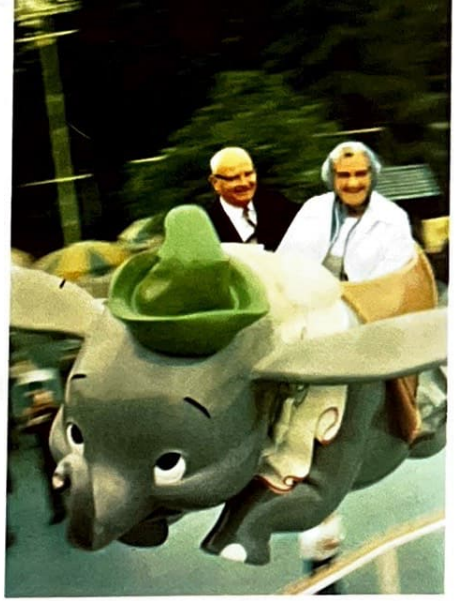
Children all over the world have one thing in common — a love for laughter. It's a Small World. And that's the name of our latest attraction. Its stars are the children of the world. Our musical fantasy features the songs and dances of youngsters from more than 100 nations, each singing in his own native language. For the grand finale, all children of the world join in to sing, 'It's a small world after all.'

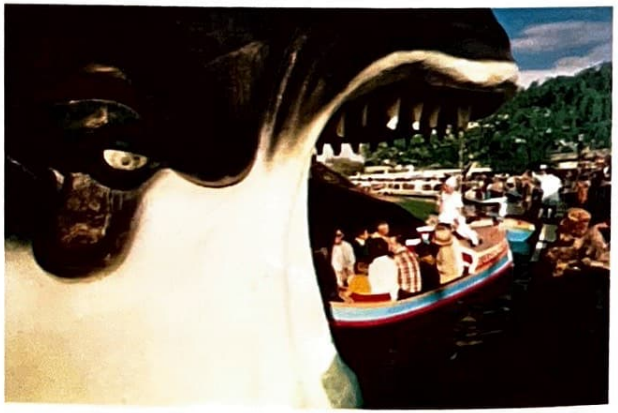
The time you spend in this gay and carefree kingdom will be a dream come true — for everyone who is young in heart."



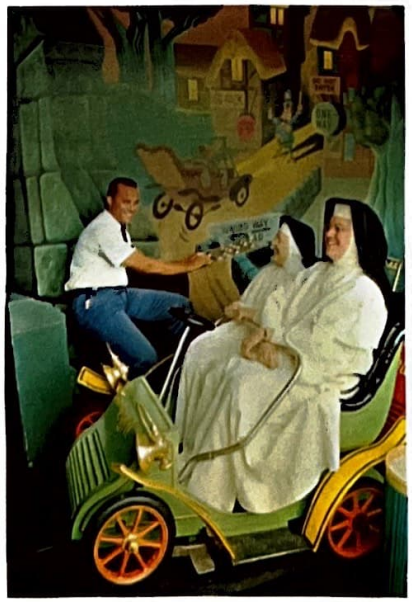
Towering high above Fantasyland is Matterhorn Mountain, an exact scale replica of the famous Swiss peak. Guests "team up" in bobsleds, racing down its slopes for a lake-sized "splashdown."

The Skyway journeys across "the happiest kingdom of them all," where young and old alike relive the adventures of Alice in Wonderland, Dumbo and other famous Walt Disney characters.

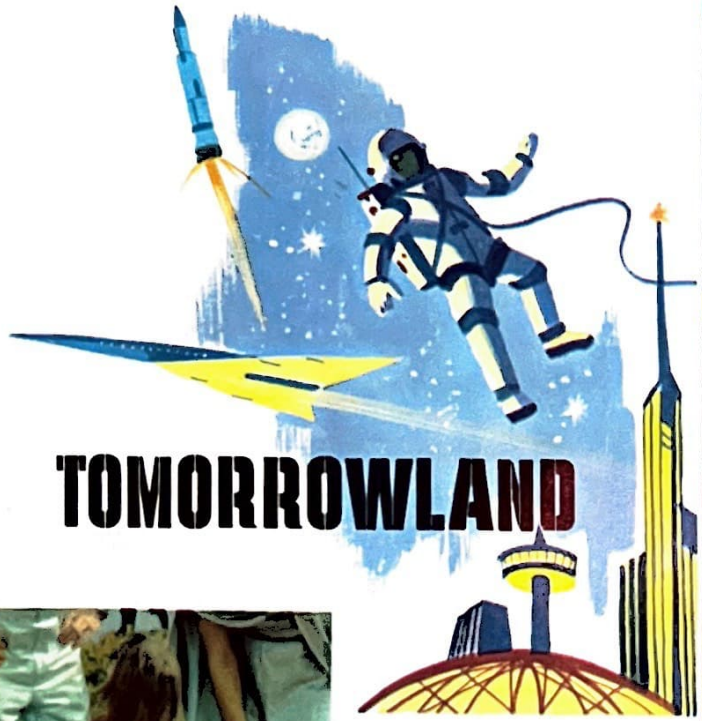




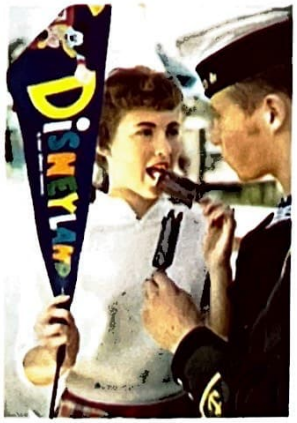
Drifting by the colorful Topiary Gardens, guests sail along the winding "seven seaways" to meet children of all lands in "It's a Small World." Other Fantasyland adventures include a wild race through the streets of old London town with Mr. Toad, and a visit to the Mad Tea Party of Alice in Wonderland.

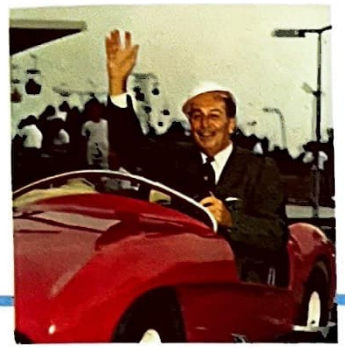


The Castle Clock Shop leaves no doubt about the time, especially at the start of a new hour.



TOMORROWLAND





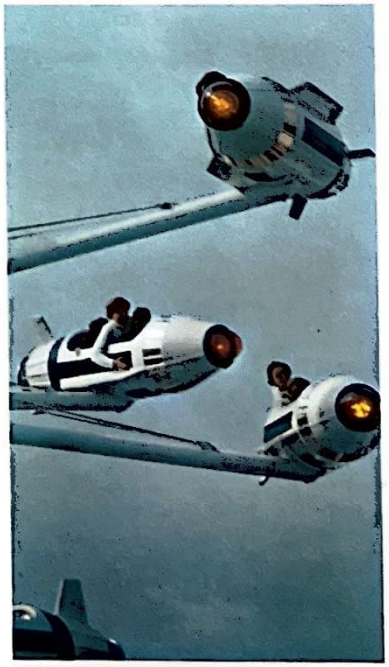
"Tomorrow can be a wonderful age. Our scientists today are opening the doors of the Space Age to achievements which will benefit our children and generations to come.

In Tomorrowland, we've arranged a preview of some of the wonderful developments the future holds in store. You will actually experience what many of America's foremost men of science and industry predict for the world of tomorrow.

Today, you can enjoy tomorrow's noiseless, smooth preview of city mass transportation, the Disneyland-Alweg Monorail System. You board a rocket ship and 'blast off' into outer space, leaving the earth far below in your journey through space towards your destination — the moon. Youngsters of all ages drive real gasoline powered automobiles over the safest super highway in the world — Autopia.

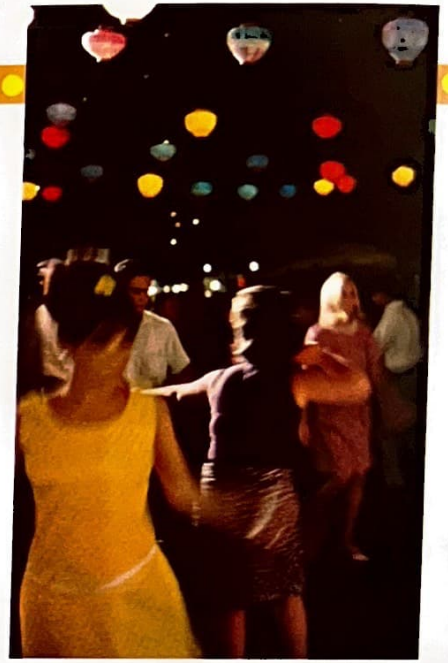
In Tomorrowland also, you'll explore the mysteries of liquid space aboard authentic submarines. Nearby, our pioneer 360 degree motion picture takes you on a tour of the United States, America the Beautiful.

These Tomorrowland attractions, and many others, have been designed to give you an opportunity to participate in adventures which are a living blueprint of our future."



Tomorrowland is a world on the move. Here the modes of travel are often as unique as the attractions they carry you through. You can tour all of Tomorrowland aboard the PeopleMover, a brand new transportation concept . . . ride the trains of America's first monorail system . . . take the wheel of an Autopia car . . . or journey through a microscope aboard an Atomobile for an Adventure Thru Inner Space.

Disneyland AFTER DARK

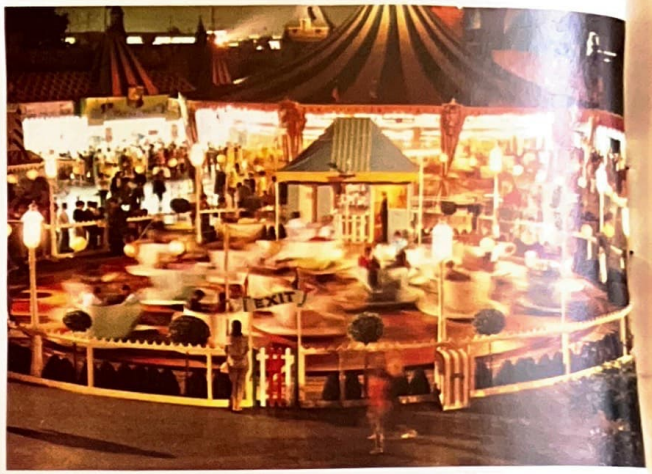


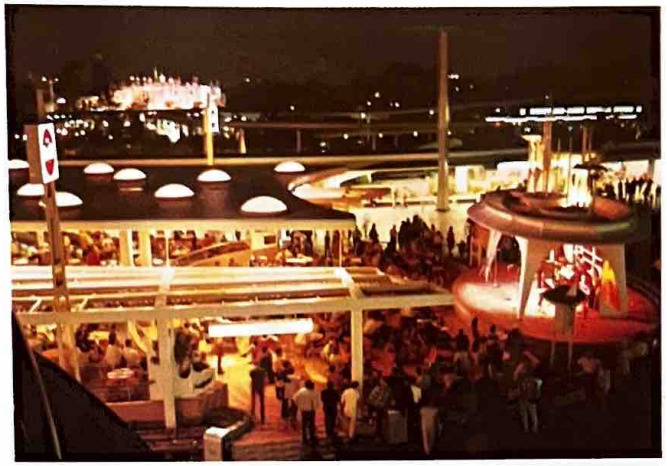
"It's difficult for me to choose my favorite time of day to be at Disneyland . . . naturally, I enjoy them all. But one which has a special attraction for me is Disneyland after dark.

As night falls, a new kind of magic and excitement takes over in Disneyland. Aboard the Mark Twain there's a real Dixieland band. The Tahitians in Adventureland really dance up a storm. While you're in Tomorrowland, I suggest you take in our band over there. And I never miss dropping in at the Plaza Gardens. Like most people, I have fun just watching others have fun."

The Mark Twain steams by the Creole Cafe, where guests dine by starlight on the banks of the Rivers of America.

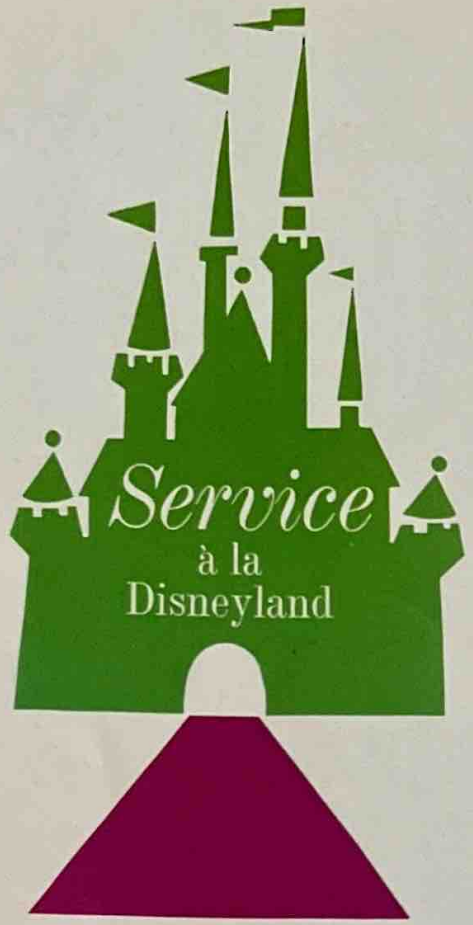
The traditional Christmas candlelight procession is one of many special holiday events presented at Disneyland through the seasons.





From the pounding beat of native drums on the Tahitian Terrace in Adventureland to the swinging rhythm of Dixieland in New Orleans Square . . . a completely different atmosphere engulfs the Magic Kingdom in the enchantment of evening.

Fantasy in the Sky opens the nighttime fun with a cascade of fireworks . . . swirling teacups become ribbon streaks of color . . . Tomorrowland's new stage features top name talent in major shows . . . and other musical groups perform throughout the Magic Kingdom for young and old to enjoy.



Disneyland is famous 'round the world as a symbol of friendliness and cleanliness — the manners and mannerisms of the "good host." These Disneyland traditions are on display throughout the Magic Kingdom, through the helping hands of employees at each attraction, in shops and stores, and in the variety of restaurants, exhibits and special services listed on this page.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS & SERVICES

Bank of America
(Main St. Branch)

Kal Kan
(Pet Inn — Main Entrance)

Eastman Kodak
(Photo Center — Main St.)

Global Van Lines
(Locker Service — Town Square)

Hallmark Communications Center
(Main St.)

I.N.A. Carefree Corner
(Information Center — Main St.)

The Market House
(Main St. General Store — Swift & Co., C&H Sugar Corner and Sunsweet Growers)

Pendleton Woolen Mills
(Frontierland)

Timex
(Main St. Watch Shop)

Upjohn Apothecary
(Main St.)

Western Printing
(Main St. Book Store)

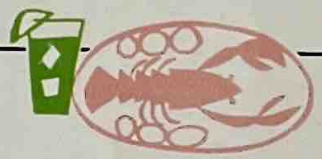
Baby Station
(East Plaza Street — Sorry — no baby-sitting)

First Aid
(East Plaza Street)

Lost & Found
(Global Van Lines — Town Square)

Lost Parents & Children
(East Plaza Street)

Strollers & Wheelchairs
(Main Entrance Area)



FOOD & BEVERAGE

Aunt Jemima's Kitchen
(Frontierland)

Blue Bayou Restaurant
(New Orleans Square)

Chicken of the Sea Pirate Ship Restaurant
(Fantasyland)

Carnation Ice Cream Parlor
(Main St.)

Carnation Plaza Gardens
(On the Plaza)

Casa de Fritos
(Frontierland)

Coca-Cola Refreshment Corner
(Main St.)

Coca-Cola Tomorrowland Terrace

Creole Cafe
(New Orleans Square)

French Market House
(New Orleans Square)

Hills Bros. Coffee House & Garden
(Main St.)

Pepsi-Cola's Golden Horseshoe
(Frontierland)

The Plaza Inn
(On the Plaza)

The Plaza Pavilion
(On the Plaza)

Sunkist, I Presume
(Adventureland)

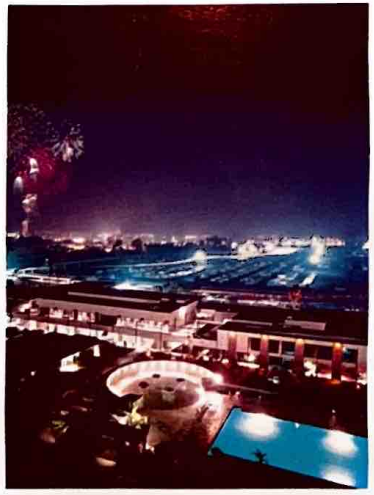
Sunkist Citrus House
(Main St.)

Tahitian Terrace
(Adventureland)

Welch's Grape Juice
(Fantasyland)

Snack Bars
(Throughout the Park)

Ice Cream Carts & Popcorn Wagons
(Throughout the Park)



Disneyland Hotel

The "official" Disneyland Hotel is a year-round vacation and recreation resort, located directly across the street from the Magic Kingdom and connected to Tomorrowland by trains of the Disneyland-Alweg Monorail System.

This unique Wrather Hotel offers recreation ranging from swimming in an Olympic-sized pool to golf facilities on a night-lighted driving range and miniature course. Adding to a complete list of resort activities is shopping in the Hotel Arcade and new Plaza Shopping Center; dining in the famous Gourmet Restaurants and coffee shop; entertainment at the Round The World Lounge; and a panoramic view of the Magic Kingdom from the 11th story Top O' The Park cocktail lounge.

With completion of its $15 million dollar expansion program, the Disneyland Hotel will offer nearly 1,000 distinctive rooms priced for family convenience and fun . . . each with air-conditioning, television, and private sundeck or patio. A new exhibition center of 35,000 square feet will also be available along with a coffee garden, specialty restaurant, night clubs and a spacious ballroom, the West's largest, seating more than 2,500 people.

The Disneyland Hotel is also convention headquarters for the entire Disneyland-Anaheim area. Within the hotel itself are meeting rooms and banquet facilities for groups ranging from as small as 15 to over 2,000 persons. Just around the corner, within walking distance is the new 9,000 seat Anaheim Convention Center. Also, only minutes away is major league baseball at Anaheim Stadium, home of the California Angels. Even Los Angeles International Airport is connected directly to the hotel by helicopter service or limousine.

Your stay at the Disneyland Hotel promises a new experience in convenience and resort living.